

Psalm 14

Strasbourg, Geneva 1542; Geneva 1551

1. The fool says in his heart, "There is no God."
2. But all alike have wandered from his ways;
3. Terror shall overwhelm their very lives,
4. Who, who will now deliver Is - ra - ël?

Their deeds are vile; not one of them is righteous.
They are corrupt and none remains who's up - right.
But God will take the side of all the right - eous.
O that salvation might come out of Zi - on!

The Lord looks down up - on his hu - man crea - tures
Have they no know - ledge - all these ev - il - do - ers,
You who would sab - o - tage the plans of the poor;
that when the Lord re - stores his peo - ple's for - tunes, to see if there are an - y that are wise and seek for God.

who eat my peo - ple, and would nev - er call up - on the Lord?
know that the Lord God is a ref - uge sure for all the poor.
Jac - ob will then re - jice, and Is - ra - ël find hap - pi - ness.
