

First Song of the Servant

Isaiah 42:1-7

SONG 22 (Orlando Gibbons)

♩=60

1. Here is my Serv - ant whom I yet up - hold,
2. He is not heard a - long the ci - ty street;
3. Faith - ful - ly he his just - ice shall de - clare;
4. Thus says the Lord, who set the stars in place,
5. "You have I called to serve the cause of right,
6. "to op - en up the eyes that can - not see,

my chos - en One, my soul's su - preme de - light;
he does not raise his voice or loud - ly shout.
he neith - er wav - ers nor is put a - side who brought the earth and all there - in to be,
so will I guide and take you by the hand.
and for the blind their vis - ion to re - store;

my Spir - it have I giv - en him of old
He will not crush the reed be - neath his feet, till just - ice is es - tab - lished ev - ery - where;
who, breath - ing life in - to our mor - tal race,
To all the na - tions you shall be as light to set the cap - tive ones at lib - er - ty,

that all the na - tions he may judge a - right.
nor will he put the flick - ering can - dle out.
the isles a - wait his law from far and wide.
gives breath to all that move on land and sea:
and as a cov - e - nant to ev - ery land;
that those in dark - may see the light once more."
