

Psalm 72

Tune: 1543; Lyons, 1548

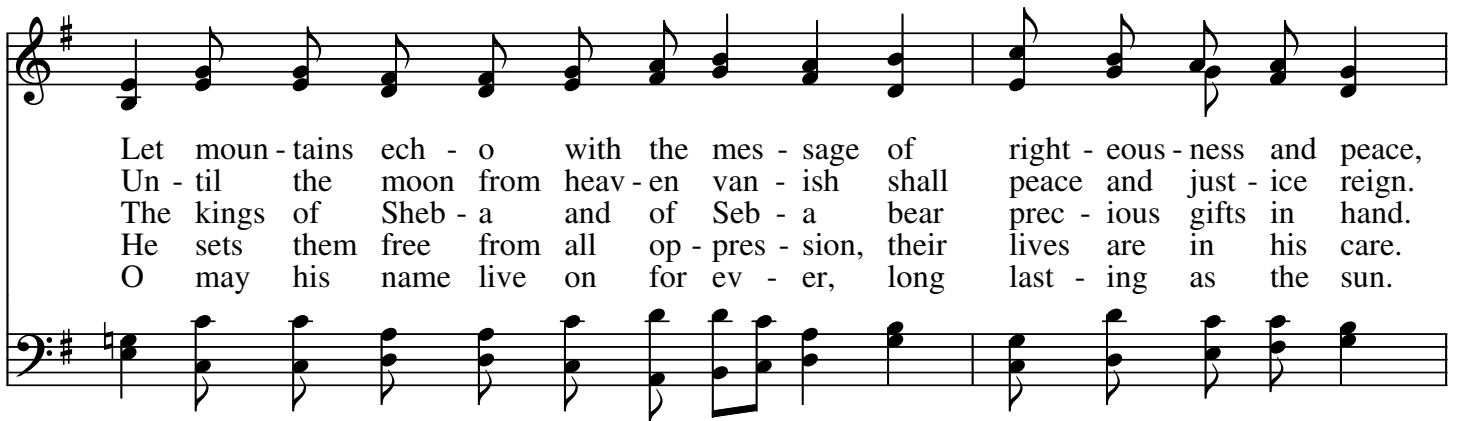

$\text{♩} = 85$

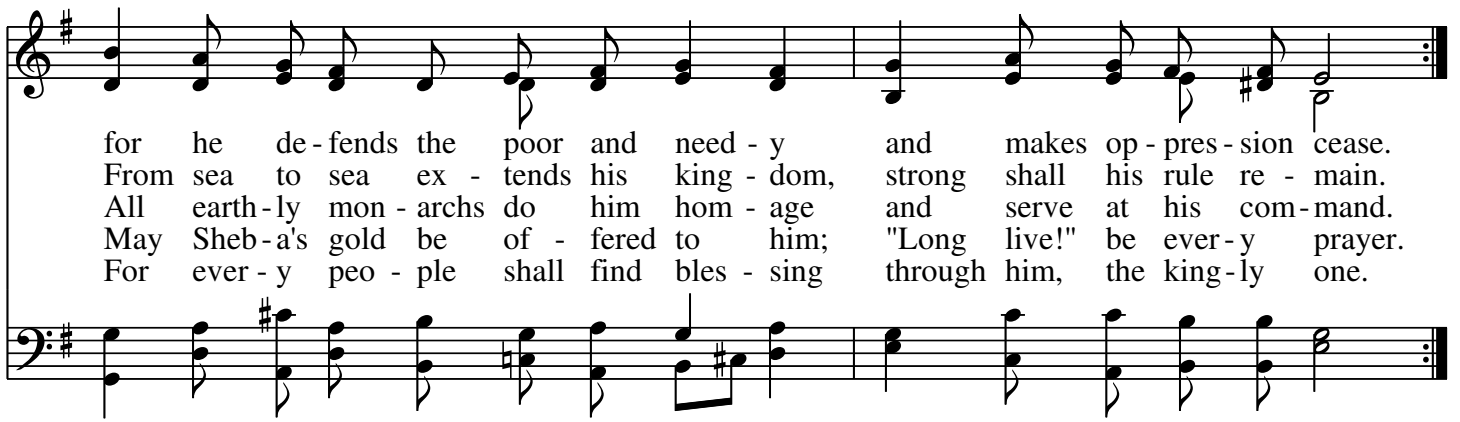

1. God, give your right - eous - ness to the king, your just - ice to his son,
2. Long as the sun and moon shall en - dure, from age to age he lives;
3. Un - god - ly na - tions fall at his feet, his foes be - fore him bow.
4. When need - y peo - ple call up - on him, their cause he will de - fend.
5. May boun - teous grain en - vel - op the land, ev - en the moun - tain tops;

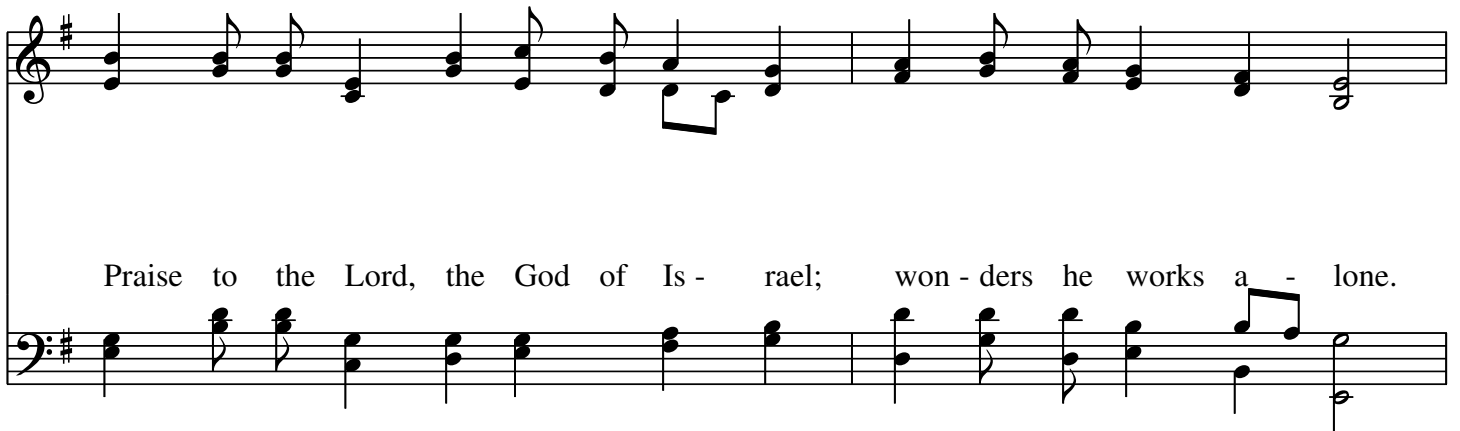

that he may right - ly judge your peo - ple and each af - flict - ed one.
like wel - come rain up - on the dry land, pros - per - i - ty he gives.
Trib - ute from Tarsh - ish and the is - lands in - to his pre - sence flow.
He pit - ies all the weak and help - less, the poor he will be - friend.
let sheaves be num - ber - less as the grass, like Leb' - non's fruit - ful crops.

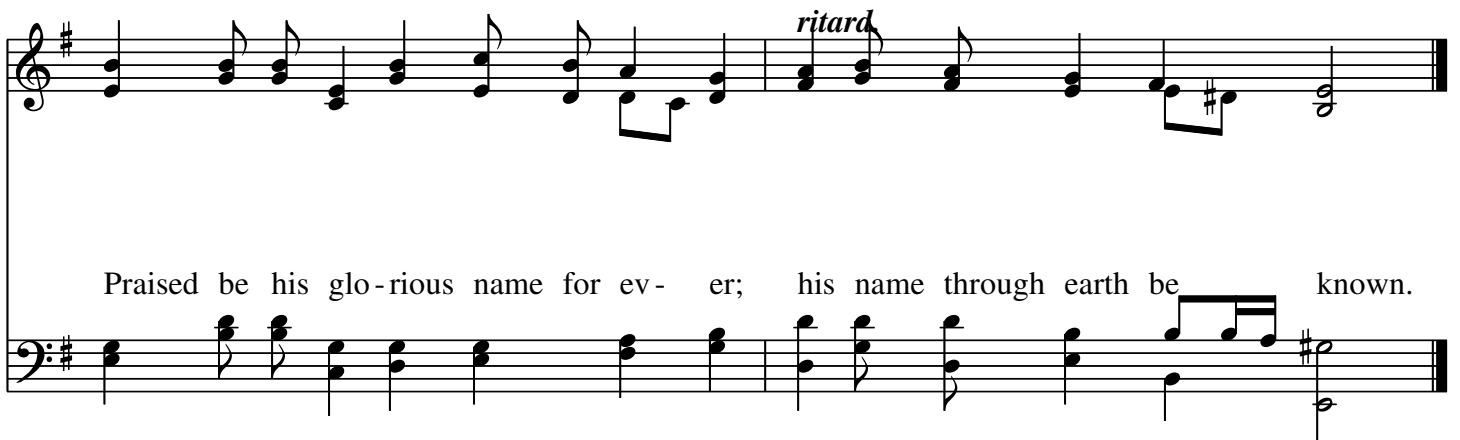

Let moun - tains ech - o with the mes - sage of right - eous - ness and peace,
Un - til the moon from heav - en van - ish shall peace and just - ice reign.
The kings of Sheb - a and of Seb - a bear prec - ious gifts in hand.
He sets them free from all op - pres - sion, their lives are in his care.
O may his name live on for ev - er, long last - ing as the sun.

for he de-fends the poor and need - y and makes op - pres - sion cease.
 From sea to sea ex - tends his king - dom, strong shall his rule re - main.
 All earth - ly mon - archs do him hom - age and serve at his com - mand.
 May Sheb - a's gold be of - fered to him; "Long live!" be ever - y prayer.
 For ever - y peo - ple shall find bles - sing through him, the king - ly one.

Praise to the Lord, the God of Is - rael; won - ders he works a - lone.
