♩ = 75

33. Your won - drous stat - utes glad - ly I o - bey.
34. Stead - y my steps ac - cord - ing to your word;
35. You, LORD, are right - eous and your judge - ments true.
36. Though I be lone - ly, though I be de - spised,

Your words un - fold to shed their light up - on us,
let not in - i - qui - ty be - come my mas - ter.
Up - right are all the stat - utes you have laid down.
yet do I not for - get your ho - ly pre - cepts.

be - stow - ing know - ledge on the sim - ple ones.
Let not op - pres - sion keep me from your law.
Con - stant are they; trust - worth - y is your word.
Your jus - tice ev - er lasts; your law is true.

My mouth is long - ing, pant - ing for your pre - cepts.
 Make your face shine up - on your wil - ling serv - ant;
 Pas - sion - ate zeal is burn - ing deep with - in me,
 An - guish and troub - le con - stant - ly sur - round me,

Turn to me and be grac - ious in your love,
 teach me to keep the stat - utes you de - cree.
 for all my en - e - mies ig - nore your words.
 yet my de - light is in your right com - mands.

as is your way with eve - ry - one who loves you.
 I weep be - cause your law is dis - re - gard - ed.
 Your prov - en prom - is - es are well be - lov - ed.
 Make me to know your just life - giv - ing stat - utes.
